

RECOMMENDATIONS OF GOVERNOR ON JUDGESHIPS MEET ENTIRE APPROVAL

Governor Pinkham yesterday sent to the department of justice his recommendation for the reappointment of three circuit judges: William Locke Whitney, second judge of the first circuit; William Joseph Robinson, third judge of the first circuit, and John Albert Matthewman, third circuit. Endorsement of these men already has been sent to Washington by the Bar Association of Hawaii and now the recommendation of the new governor is thought to make certain their reappointment.

So far as known no opposition has arisen anywhere to any of the three, and the governor's action is receiving unequalled approval from the bench, bar and people of Honolulu.

The terms of Judge Whitney and Judge Matthewman already have expired, the former on May 6, 1913, and the latter on January 6, 1913, while that of Judge Robinson will expire March 6, 1914.

One of the next recommendations in line for the governor's action will be to fill the vacancy in the second circuit, at present held by Judge Selden B. Kingsbury, whose term expired February 9, 1913. It is believed by many that the governor will name Judge W. S. Edging, at present practicing law in Honolulu, and who has been endorsed for the position by the Bar Association. He is a Democrat, and it is predicted by some local at that this will be the only circuit judgeship which will be taken by a new man, the remaining judges probably being reappointed. On the other hand, several who have followed the matter closely believe that Judge Kingsbury is sure of reappointment.

The term of Judge Charles F. Parsons of the fourth circuit, East Hawaii, expired January 6, 1913. That of Judge H. E. Cooper of the first division of the first circuit expires March 7 next, while that of Judge Lyle A. Dickey of the fifth circuit, will expire May 6, 1914.

The legal fraternity of the city is expressing its pleasure today at the action of Governor Pinkham in recommending the reappointment of Judges W. L. Whitney, W. J. Robinson and Albert Matthewman of the circuit court.

"It shows," stated Attorney E. C. Peters this morning, "that the governor is not going to let politics interfere with the judiciary. His recommendation for the reappointment of the three judges is simply a recognition of merit. The territory can be very well pleased with the action of the governor."

"The positions on the circuit court bench are very important to everybody in the community. The judges have served faithfully and with great ability, and their reappointment shows that their good work is recognized and appreciated by the new chief executive."

Senator James L. Cooke, also a prominent lawyer, expressed his pleasure at the appointments.

"Judges Robinson and Whitney have long been recognized as highly able judges. I regard their reappointment as nonpartisan and a reward for merit. They have done their duty to the bench without being touched by political influences, and I consider that their reappointment was made without any political considerations. The governor has acted as they acted—purely nonpartisan. I have not had the pleasure of knowing Judge Matthewman."

AT THE THEATERS

BIJOU THEATER

There will be a complete change in the bill offered by Armon and Armon, the novelty and refined instrumentalists who have made such a favorable impression during their brief engagement at the Bijou theater. These talented artists have a pleasing program planned for this evening and continuing throughout the week. The musicians will soon depart for Australia where they will take up work with one of the big vaudeville circuits. They are equally proficient in the use of the bagpipe, band pipe, Tasmanian corralian, saxhorn, clarinet and cornet.

Friday evening will be a gala night for local amateurs who to the number of a dozen have been engaged to try for honors on the Bijou stage. Local talent will be seen and heard in a series of stunts that will range from gay to grave. These performances are always looked forward to by local theatergoers with a degree of expectancy, the prime feature of which is its assured realization.

A series of fine photo-plays are to be displayed in connection with the vaudeville bill. The Sisters Affluence are on the bill for several vocal selections and also some late steps and dances.

YE LIBERTY THEATER

The dramatization of portions of the life of Christ, under the title of "The Crimson Cross," is declared by mainland critics who have gone into an extensive review of the work, as a masterpiece of the photographic art. The company selected to enact the piece include several who have won fame in the moving picture world. It takes 3000 feet of film to properly present the drama in its entirety. There are many absorbing points in the oft-related story that are brought out admirably, while the production is one that will maintain the undivided interest of the spectator to the very end. This special feature film is to serve as a headliner at Ye Liberty theater on Saturday and Monday evenings. Other pictures, all late offerings from the big mainland studios, will be included in the program.

A change is made daily in the afternoon and evening program at the Empire theater. A collection of new pictures was received with the arrival of the steamer Lurline. The subjects cover a wide range.

'SOAPBOX' BARRON HAS PLAN HE BELIEVES WILL LAND THE 'BACON'

Charles Barron, otherwise and more familiarly known as "Soapbox" Barron because of his proclivity to make political speeches from such a vantage point, has whipped the Democratic county committee in line. And as a result of his work that committee for the first time in 12 years of its history, will not present a list of its endorsed candidates for territorial offices to the chief executive.

Notwithstanding that the territorial central Democratic committee has presented Governor Pinkham with a "slate," carrying the names of all the men endorsed for "cabinet" jobs, the county committee, of which Barron is the chairman, will follow a new and different course. On the word of Barron, this course will be fruitful of many jobs.

Catching at what he conceived to be the wish of the governor, the chairman of the county committee has outlined to his fellow committeemen the procedure for candidates to follow. Under the rules of this procedure the aspirants for political jobs must first call personally on the governor, have a chat with him touching on their merits and support for the positions sought. After the interviews have come to an end, Barron, acting for the committee, plans to present himself in his official capacity of chairman of the body, present the chief executive with the endorsements of the men the latter has seen, and answer any questions which the governor may wish to put.

Barron took his reasons this morning for insisting on such a procedure, and he incidentally indulged in numerous animadversions of the territorial Democratic committee for its conduct toward the governor in presenting the "slate" it did. Barron's dislike of the territorial body is notorious and of considerable duration, and it has a bit of small political history mixed up in it. That may or may not account for his animadversions. The fact remains, as he says, that his committee is following a different course from the territorial body.

"We are simply acting in line with the wishes of the governor," said Barron. "The governor made it plain on several occasions that he did not wish to make appointments solely on political recommendations. He said he wished to interview applicants himself. In accordance with this wish, our committee has decided not to present him with a 'slate' like the territorial committee did, but to direct every candidate to call on the governor first. After the candidates have called, I will drop up and present our committee's recommendations, answer any questions which may be put, and leave the governor free to decide."

"This is what he wishes. He wishes to put men in office who haven't any political obligations to discharge. If he puts any of our men in office we can never say that it was due to our influence. It must be taken as the result of individual merits. The position is different with the territorial committee. It has presented an entire 'slate' and if the governor should decide to appoint any of the men whose names appear on that slate, the territorial committee can claim credit for the appointment and demand that the appointee pay the political obligations by putting its men in subordinate jobs."

"That is just what the governor does not want. Yet the territorial committee, to the embarrassment of the governor, went ahead and foolishly made up and presented its 'slate.' In doing so it put Mr. Pinkham in a difficult place, and one that he did not wish to be in."

"The natural result of it is that it will lose out. When the appointments are made, you will find that the county committee is well to the front."

Barron says the governor has not yet taken up the matter of the appointments to territorial jobs. The federal judicial positions have kept him busy, says the chairman. Barron believes that W. W. Thayer will be reappointed as attorney-general, and that "Link" McCordless isn't got a chance for the presidency of the board of health, despite his endorsement by the territorial committee. All things considered in the political skies, Barron says he is delighted with the new governor, and hints strongly that the chief executive and he will exchange official nods before long.

NOBLEMAN FROM GREAT BRITAIN LOCAL VISITOR

One of six lords in waiting to His Majesty King George of Great Britain, a son of a world-famous astronomer and scientist, Lord Richard Farer Herschell, one of the best known figures in the capitals of Europe arrived on the Toyo Kisen Kaisha liner Shinyo Maru yesterday afternoon and will stay here for about a week before continuing the journey to Japan, China, Federated Malay States, India and the Levant.

Accompanied by a valet, a decidedly amiable Britisher made his way through a crowd of chauffeurs, hotel runners and hackmen yesterday, engaging a vehicle for the Moana hotel, where he proposes to remain until such time as he could arrange for a trip to the island of Hawaii.

"I have heard much concerning the volcano, and I stopped over at Honolulu solely for the purpose of visiting it," stated Lord Herschell.

"It's the only volcano in captivity, is it not?" he inquired. Continuing further, the visiting member of the British peerage said that he left London last October and was making a leisurely journey around the world. "I spent some weeks in South America and from Buenos Ayres went across that continent to Lehigh, where fortunately I was able to connect with an oil-carrying steamer for San Francisco."

"I now contemplate taking passage in the steamer Korea for Japan and the Far East. I may decide to remain over for a longer period, but at present my plans call for a visit to the volcano and then away to the Orient."

It is said that ill health prompted the young Englishman to launch forth on his long journey. While a passenger in the oil tanker Prometheus he was listed on the ship's papers as paymaster.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and luxuriant at once—No more falling hair.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots loosen, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knott's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knott's Danderine. It eventually—why not now?—advancement.
